Safe Supply Course and Qualification

SAFE SUPPLY COURSE & QUALIFICATION

"Anyone can sell Safety…but you shouldn't buy Safety from just Anyone….."

How many UK businesses 'sell safety products'?

There are thousands! Some good, some not so….Tens of thousands of products are purchased to keep people safe & healthy at work, BUT are these products the right ones for the task? How can you be sure the advice you've got from your supplier is correct? How does that sales person know what they're selling is appropriate?

In truth, some don't! BSIF have developed the Safe Supply Course and Qualification - a publicly recognised qualification at National Level to allow your business to demonstrate capability to customers.

- For customer facing staff to develop their expertise, knowledge and advice they provide for the end user.
- An E-Learning module course that when completed offers a BSIF NEBOSH endorsed qualification. The qualified sales person will be able to show they can supply products with competence. A great advantage for employers selling safety to the market.
- Businesses selling PPE will gain an advantage over competitors by having their staff trained as qualified safety sellers, able to provide customers with expert advice on products and give them confidence when purchasing.
- Further learning and qualifications are planned in specific hazard areas such as Respiratory Protection in the future

"Anyone can sell Safety…but you shouldn't buy Safety from just Anyone….."

The Safe Supply syllabus will be delivered through e– learning allowing the most effective and efficient method of gaining the knowledge.

Safe Supply Course and Qualification covers:

- ⇒ Principles of Legislation in the Safety & Health Market
- ⇒ Understand how Occupational Safety is managed
- ⇒ Principles of Product Conformity Assessment & the Regulatory Approval process
- ⇒ Principles of Market Surveillance within the PPE & Occupational Health & Safety environment
- ⇒ The course comes with a recognised qualification endorsed by NEBOSH

After completion of the online training modules there is the opportunity to sit a mock theory exam in order to practice the skills and knowledge learnt within the course and prepare for the final theory exam. On successful completion of the final theory exam candidates will receive the NEBOSH endorsed qualification in safe supply in the Health & Safety market.

If you are interested in the course for your employees then please speak with us today.
